To-Morrow's Cup-Tie at Yeovil

Sunderland Fans Travel by 'Plane

(BY R.G.K.)

The cup-tie invasion has started. Last night (Thursday) the first of over 1,000 "Geordies" were due to arrive at Yeovil for to-morrow's Fourth Round F.A. Cup-tie against mighty Sunderland the Club which has never been out of the First Division of the Football League.

The majority of their followers, however, will, to-night, pay half a week's wages to make the 400-mile journey in the hope of seeing £60,000 star-packed Sunderland put an end to the cup aspirations of the only non-League Club left in the competition.

The journey will take 14 hours, and they are due to arrive just after midday to-morrow. Other Sunderland fans will reduce travelling time to a little over two hours by flying in twin-engined aircraft from Woolsington and Greatham Airports. The fare, though, will cost them £10 each.

GATE LIMIT 15,000

Only 15,000 ticket-holders will be admitted to the ground, the only tie in the West Country. Many of Yeovil's 6,000 supporters who failed to get there—they are victims of the ticket distribution muddle. The Chairman of the Directors, Mr. H. E. Smith, had something to say about this. In a statement on the subject he described as "many rumours and misstatements," he says that no fewer than 10,619 ground tickets were distributed in the borough alone.

"We have a normal following at league games of less than 4,000 and we estimate that less than 2,000 of these supporters are from the town itself," states Mr. Smith. "It should have been easy for everyone of them to obtain a ticket. There are no worries about those supporters who only attend cup-ties. In fact the direct allocation was not made to the Supporters' Club organisation as in previous cup-ties, as we felt that the 2,000 tickets issued to members of the Supporters' Club would have easily covered their 1,900 members.

Should any of our regular supporters be unable to obtain tickets I feel genuinely sorry for them, and shall do them better luck on future occasions, whether marketing facilities have been made—the management will do their best to remedy by this experience," adds Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith explained that of the tickets distributed in the Football Ground, 2,907 were for members of the Supporters' Club committee, and 5,108 issued to factories, public houses, evening newspaper offices, hairdressers and Club Directors. In addition, 1,000 tickets were allocated to Sunderland and a further 1,386 were sent by post to supporters in the country districts—at the rate of two per applicant, except to Supporters' Club members with more applications.

YEOVIL "EXILES"

"Thirty Yeovilians at Loughborough" write to tell me that they have not deprived home supporters of tickets as they have obtained their's from Sunderland," says Mr. Smith. "The journey of 350 miles the most ardent supporter will not begrudge in the opportunity of seeing two Soccer Stars at Huish to-morrow, as we still remain Yeovil's supporters' club.

Although I have first-hand knowledge of the "one-men deputation" from the local Supporters' Club to the Director concerning the allocation of tickets, the Southern National Omnibus Company's Traffic Manager (Mr. C. H. Preece) writes that the threat "bus drivers and conductors refused to operate special 'buses on the day of the match is quite unfounded.

Mr. F. Margar, chairman of No. 2 Branch N.U.R. (Bus Division) tells me that any action that may have been taken by the employees was unofficial and without the knowledge of the Union. He makes it clear that full provision has been made for operating special 'buses.

"SUNDERLAND CAN BE BEATEN"

What are Yeovil's chances of victory? "Sunderland are a first-class side, but they can be beaten," was the verdict of Player-Manager Alec Stock and Trainer Stanley Abbott, who saw them defeat Derby County by 2—1 at Roker Park last Saturday. These two men who, previous to the club which took Yeovil into the Fourth Round for the first time in the Club's history said: "The Yeovil players are just as good as they were against Bury.

Yeovil hope to be at full strength, but there is one doubt. The services of their goalkeeper, Stanley Hall, who was injured in the last Saturday's Southern League game against Worcester City.

If, to-morrow morning, the former Leyton Orient player is still unfit, his place will be taken by Peter Dyke, a solicitor's clerk, who plays in Yeovil's Western League side. He has made 1,000 appearances and signed for this season—at Bath on Christmas-day.

Training during the week has, for the most part, not been of a strenuous nature. On Monday the team travelled to Weston-super-Mare for brine baths and were afterwards the guests of the Mayor of Weston (Mr. J. Heybrmer). Mr. George Fox, a former chairman of directors was the host on Tuesday, when the team visited Bridport and Abbotsbury, and on Wednesday at Sherborne Mr. Stanley Johnson met the expenses for a visit to Seaton and Beer.

The Sunderland team who were due to arrive at Yeovil late last night and to-day stayed at the Head Office will get their first glimpse of Yeovil's it's-worth-two-goals-to-us slogan pitch this week-end.

They will be allowed to loosen up on the cricket pitch in front of the stand after their long journey, but under no circumstances will they be permitted to take part in any practice on the pitch itself.

This is the ruling of Yeovil's Chairman, who told me: "We make no secret of the fact that the slope is a definite advantage to us, and it would be foolish to let opponents of the calibre of Sunderland get the feel of the ground."

Whichever team passes into the next round, someone will have to referee, so local magistrates have granted permission for licensed premises to open between 4 and 5 p.m.

ONLY ONE RESULT SAYS SUNDERLAND

J. Anderson, Sports Editor, of the "Sunderland Daily Echo," writes: "Over a thousand people will leave the 400 miles from Sunderland to Yeovil on Saturday, and they will be by no means the extent of Sunderland's support. There are 'exiled' Wearsiders in all parts of the country and a considerable number in the West and Southern counties of England. They will be there, too.

While, to Yeovil people, this cup-tie is a great event in their history, to Sunderland people, steeped in 70 years football tradition, it is merely another cup-tie. Nothing else. Not since the early eighties, when Sunderland were thrown out of the competition on a charge of professionalism after defeating Middlesbrough, then a purely amateur organisation.

And with the Sunderland players' first-class display on Saturday so much in their favour, perhaps, if they do to advance in this season's competition after Bolton Wanderers, the first obstacle in the past two years.

Manager Billy Murray and his directors are not disturbed over the banning of ball practice on the Yeovil ground when they know that they have to do a spot of training. All they asked for and all they intended to do is to do a few cross sprints to loosen up after the long journey yesterday.

There are no problems in the Rookery Park Camp, and anyone who saw them defeat Derby County would share that confidence, except, perhaps, Derby Stock, of course! The only doubt at present centres on the state of surrounds left-back Arthur Ruddell, and if he is not 100 per cent. fit "Barney" Watson, secured from Liverpool last season at a £7,500 fee, will play.

Fred Hall, the captain, did not play on Saturday, but it was more of a rest than because of injury, though he had been feeling a knock on the thigh muscle during last week.

If Sunderland touch their best there should only be one result—sheet or no sheet. That is the opinion of Cassett, Co. Durham, to this paper asking for the names and addresses of two people who would appreciate going to the match. Names and addresses were forwarded and two lucky Yeovil fans had ground tickets by return of post, with best wishes for Yeovil's success.

LITERARY AND DRAMATIC SOCIETY

A talk on stage costume was given to members of the Literary and Dramatic Society by Miss Marion Young at the weekly meeting in the Odd Fellows' Hall on Wednesday. Illustrating her talk with original costumes, photographs and blackboard sketches, Miss Young traced the history of stage dress from "the Ice Maiden" period, through the Elizabethan and Restoration periods to the present time. The speaker was thanked by Mr. Stanley Trask, who presided.

POLICE BALL

A company of more than 300, which included the Mayor (Ald. R. Bedford) and his daughter, Mrs. B. Whiteside, attended the annual ball organised by the Police Division of the Somerset Constabulary at the Liberal Hall on Wednesday. Dancing was to the music of the Dorset Constabulary orchestra, by permission of the Chief Constable (Major L. Peel Yates). Inspector S. Waterman, special constabulary, was M.C. Supt. J. S. Burnham presented prizes to the winners of a novelty dance. P.C. A. Browning, R.N., and Mrs. Olive Trent.

MUSIC GROUP

About 20 members participated in a musical quiz at the Art School on Saturday. The gathering formed two teams who were pied with questions by Messrs. John Knight and Jack Rivett, who were question master and question timekeeper respectively. Mr. Knight also operated the reproducer for gramophone records used in the quiz. Each team was required to answer 20 questions covering a wide field of musical interest, and B Smith won by the narrow margin of one mark. Gramophone records concluded an enjoyable evening.

CONGREGATIONAL THURSDAY GROUP

Mrs. W. E. Palmer gave a programme of gramophone recordings at last week's meeting entitled, "Taken at Random." Mrs. Palmer chose records from her own collection, and included in the recital were: The cellist Casals playing "Le Cygne," from Saint-Saens' Carnival of Animals Suite; Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson in Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze"; the Russian bass, Chaliapine with chorus in "Credo"; four of Elgar's Enigma Variations; Mozart's Horn Quintet; and Irene Scharrer playing Littolf's Piano Scherzo, with orchestra. Mr. G. M. Poole arranged the amplified recordings, and the Rev. John McIntyre (chairman) thanked Mrs. Palmer.

DEATH OF MR. S. J. HICKS

One of the oldest established clock and watch repairers in the town, Mr. Sydney Harris Hicks, of 15, Wyndham-street, died suddenly on Tuesday at the age of 66. A native of Yeovil, Mr. Hicks started in business at 39, Middle-street, in 1910, and later moved to the premises in Wyndham-street which he was occupying at the time of his death. He was a member of the Parish Church Men's Watch Makers' Guild and a member of the congregation of the South-street Baptist Church.

CHELSEA TEA ROOMS RE-OPENED

Champagne was served to guests at the first luncheon in the Chelsea Tea Rooms, when they were reopened in new premises in Park-road on Friday. The restaurant formerly occupied premises in Princes-street. The new premises have been made by under-gone extensive alterations and redecorations and the neat and attractive interior maintains the cosy and homely atmosphere of the old. Mr. Bert Burnett has put his knowledge at the disposal of the proprietress, Mrs. L. M. Gliff, until her own has been completed.

HUSBAND'S PETITION SUCCEEDS

Mrs. Linnet Monica Heycock, whose address was given as Longford House, Yeovil, offered no defence in the Divorce Court on Monday to her husband's petition, which alleged desertion by her.

Mr. Commissioner Tyndale granted a decree nisi to the husband, Major Philip John Mapleden Heycock, a judge advocate with the Rhine Army, whose home address was given as East Burton Hall, Leicestershire.

The marriage was at St. Mark's, North Audley-street, Westminster, in January, 1940.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

The fascinating study of "Rock Gardens" was the subject of a talk given by Mr. G. Bartlett, of Orchard Neville Nurseries, Baltonsborough, at this week's meeting of the Yeovil and District Horticultural Society on Tuesday. He dealt carefully with the importance of siting, having regard to the soil and strata. His talk was illustrated by excellent slides. Mr. J. Biggs thanked the speaker, and Mr. A. F. Whitfield (chairman) expressed gratitude to the lanternist, Mr. E. Garrett. The next lecture will be on February 8th, when Mr. C. Pulham, Anthony, will speak on "Carnation Growing."

NURSING ASSOCIATION

The first general meeting of Yeovil and District Nursing Association under the new constitution took place on Tuesday, when the introduction of the National Health Service Act was explained by Mr. F. J. King, of Holwell, was the recipient of a leather wallet and Treasury notes at a farewell social on Monday.

Making the presentation on behalf of the district personnel, Divisional Officer G. A. Mitchell referred to Mr. King's service with the Force and wished him success in his new sphere of activity in London.

In 1938 Mr. King volunteered for duty with the Yeovil Auxiliary Fire Service, at Enfield, London, and from there attended many of the major air raid incidents both in the city and in the greater London area, including the 1940 blitz. Later he was at the Victoria Docks in 1940. Forty-eight hours continuous fire-fighting duty was not unusual for him in those days. Four years later he was transferred to Leicester, Oxfordshire, where he remained until going to Yeovil.

WOMEN'S LIBERAL ASSOCIATION

At a meeting of the Association in the Liberal Club, on Monday, the Divisional Agent (Lieut-Col. W. E. Ratcliffe, gave an interesting talk on the activities of the prospective Liberal candidate, Mr. Jeremy Thorpe. Laren, during his recently concluded visit, and said Liberals in the constituency, especially Yeovil, Yeovil, realised the immediate need for increased endeavour and a speedy ing up of activity within the county Association.

The true core of Liberalism was evident in the country districts, the Agent said, but Yeovil presented a different problem. With the many beneficial and useful organisations serving the interests of the town, it was proving difficult to get even folk of a Liberal mind, to "toll up" as members, while the apparent indifference of the younger generation was a problem to combine and solve.

Colonel Ratcliffe urged the cast-ing aside of petty differences and concentration on building a lively Liberal organisation, as the next election was now a matter of months and not years.

The Agent expressed personal appreciation for the assistance and help of the Women's Liberal Association, and said he was confident that they would redouble their efforts to consolidate the results already accomplished. He was thanked by the Chairman, Mrs. B. Perriam.

FUNERAL OF MRS. M. GRIFFIN

The funeral took place at the Cemetery on Tuesday, of Mrs. Mabel Griffin, of 17, Croford Park, whose sudden death at the age of 71, was reported last week. The Rev. A. H. Andrews officiated, and family mourners were Mr. F. E. Grimsdon), Mrs. A. Adamsingham, of Southsea (sister), Mrs. H. Hallett (sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Wareham and Mr. C. J. Ford (cousins), Mr. W. J. Hannam and Mrs. Hannam, Mr. J. Andrews, Miss E. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. S. Sugg, Mrs. J. White, Mr. R. Harbour and Mr. and Mrs. Pitcairn (friends), Mr. F. E. Pengray (friend), also representing the staff of Messrs. Boots, chemists.

Funeral arrangements were carried out by Messrs. G. H. Cook & Son, florist-street.

GAY NINETIES' CLUB

Evidence of the growing popularity of old-time dancing was clearly shown at the annual meeting of the Gay Nineties' Club held in the Princes Ballroom on Tuesday, when it was stated that membership had now passed the 300 mark.

The Chairman, Mr. V. Ball, reported that the Tuesday evening public class now numbered over 100. The Mayor's War Memorial Hall Appeal Fund had received £32 as a result of the Club's efforts.

Mr. Ball was tendered his resignation as chairman, was elected a Life-member.

Officers elected were: Chairman, Mr. A. V. Vaus; Secretary, Mr. C. J. Hutton; Treasurer, Mr. G. Barber; Assistant Treasurer, Mr. J. Barber; Committee, Mesdames W. Swanson, J. Ball, V. Vaus, G. Barber, and Glover, B. Cook, Berswall, Sweet, E. Bell and Taylor, and Messrs. Messrs. V. Ball, D. Harvey, R. North, F. Taylor, J. Ball, F. Goodenough, C. Trowbridge and W. Hardy.

TOWNSWOMEN'S GUILD

A talk on Yeovil's water supply by the Borough Surveyor, Mr. A. J. Price, took the place of the usual "Any questions" period at the meeting of the Yeovil Townswomen's Guild, when they met on Tuesday for the annual programme at the Unitarian Church on Tuesday. A "Programme planning" session, known as "Programme planning" explained by Mrs. J. Pressland (Area Organiser and National Federation of Townswomen's Guilds) and Mrs. E. Hutchings (Area Rep. of the Rural Federation) was used to enable all members to submit ideas.

Under each of four headings—public affairs, world affairs, the home and the arts—guild members wrote down their suggestions for talks on printed forms, with preference to the most interesting and practical. Mrs. Price's water supply talk received most votes, and a good second was informative lectures on emigration and the eastern affairs, while members more concerned with the home chose talks on "How to furnish a flat" and "Where others were ransacked, but nothing was found to be missing."

At 4 Lower Church-street occupied by Messrs. W. E. Plowman & Son, Ltd., a quantity of clothing was stolen during Tuesday night. Entrance was gained through a window at the rear of the building.

A sum of money was also taken from Mrs. Pearl Pressland, who lives at 1, Church-street, Preston Plucknett, during Saturday night. Access was gained through a window at the back of the house.

Another theft was reported to the police from the premises of Mr. Kelly, a fish and chip saloon proprietor, of 2, Church-street, Preston Plucknett, during Saturday night. Entry was gained through a window at the back of the premises.

Between 6 p.m. on Friday and 8 a.m. on Saturday, thieves broke into the premises of Mr. Ernest Bickley, of 1, Church-street, Preston Plucknett, and stole a quantity of clothing. Entrance was gained through a window at the back of the premises.

Entry was gained into the premises of Mr. Black and Mr. W. Nash, in Chapel Mr. D. Mudge, dairyman, Mr. Bob Mudge, Mr. Townsend, Mr. Fred Pressland, Mr. Pitcairn, Mr. Bert Winchcombe Counsell, Sister Jane and Mr. Richard Bond, Mrs. Parkhouse, Mrs. Pitcairn, Mrs. Bickley, Mrs. Wyke, Mrs. Hathaway, Mrs. Board and Jones.

Mr. Jack Stevens, captain of the football team, proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman and Committee for the season's activities, and Mr. Fred Stevens seconded. Bender, dancing, spectacular turn was provided by Mr. Swain and Mr. Williams, drummer Mr. Black and Mr. W. Nash.

Mr. D. Mudge, chairman, Mr. Bob Mudge, Mr. Townsend, Mr. Fred Pressland, Mr. Pitcairn, Mrs. Winchcombe Counsell, Sister Jane and Mr. Richard Bond, Mrs. Parkhouse, Mrs. Pitcairn, Mrs. Bickley, Mrs. Wyke, Mrs. Hathaway, Mrs. Board and Jones.

Mr. Jack Stevens, captain of the football team, proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman and Committee for the season's activities, and Mr. Fred Stevens seconded. Bender, dancing, spectacular turn was provided by Mr. Swain and Mr. Williams, drummer Mr. Black and Mr. W. Nash.

PIANO AND VIOLIN RECITAL

Two young and gifted musicians, West-country born pianist Leonard Isaacson and violinist Suzanne Rozsa, a native of Budapest, who came to England in 1938, received an enthusiastic reception when they gave a recital at the Liberal Hall, Yeovil. Their visit was arranged by the Music Group of the Yeovil Arts and Theatre Council.

The standard of playing was popularly acclaimed as exceptionally good, especially commendable when one considers that the pianist had suffered a damaged finger which compelled her to alter her programme slightly. She possessed all the fire and dash of youth, both as accomplished soloist and accompanist, and the violinist displayed nothing better than Beethoven's 24 variations in C minor, Suzanne Rozsa's opening item, and the Grieg sonata in C minor. Schubert's Rondo Brilliante and Scherzo-Tito were two fine examples of the violinist's technical ability, based on a good spiritual sense and a very sympathetic tone. Leonard Isaacson's solo items were splendidly interpreted, and his more spectacular numbers were brilliant examples of technique and synchronisation. The understanding between pianist and violinist was outstanding feature perfectly illustrated in the final encore, "Flight of the Bumble Bee."

BAPTIST FELLOWSHIP

Speaking in the third of a series of talks entitled "Christ or Chaos" at the Baptist Fellowship on Tuesday, the Rev. F. R. Scholefield, of Northampton, said many people were thankful for the Christian Faith, and many others were not. Mr. T. W. Rose presided.

During the year mentioned that the Community Service Committee had been active in the publication of arrangements for the formation of a Round Table in Yeovil, and that a Round Table was formed in fact that his wife and both as accomplished soloist and accompanist, and that Mr. Isaacson displayed nothing better than Beethoven's 24 variations in C minor, Suzanne Rozsa's opening item, and the Grieg sonata in C minor. Schubert's Rondo Brilliante and Scherzo-Tito were two fine examples of the violinist's technical ability, based on a good spiritual sense and a very sympathetic tone.
