FIVE flags lowered to the sound of The Last Post on Saturday as the team joined 4,237 fans — the biggest crowd this season — to sing an emotional Abide With Me. Yeovil Town Football Club was saying farewell to its famous sloping pitch. After 70 years of play at Huish, the club goes on the level when it moves to the new £2.86 million Huish Park complex. A new supermarket will soon stand on the ground which has played host to Queen's Park Rangers, Arsenal and Sunderland. And in August, the club plays its first game in the purpose-built, 9,000 capacity stadium on the outskirts of Yeovil.
